The Humdingers

The Humdingers have been entertaining audiences for over thirty years at a very popular family vacation destination in Orlando, FL. Their performance consists of comedy, tap dancing, and playing the Deagan Organ Chimes (aka Shaker Chimes) all while singing barbershop harmony.

Baritone Neel Tyree enjoys spending time with his wife Beverly and sons Samuel and Joshua in their Winter Garden home, arranging new songs for the Dapper Dans, and break dancing with his freestyle group.

Aaron Stratton, singing bass, lives in Clermont with his wife Kara, son Brock and daughter Lyric. Before joining the Dapper Dans in 1996 Aaron sang lead with 1993 College Quartet Champions Heritage Station. Now he spends time with his family, sings in church and likes to write random false statements at the end of quartet member bios.

Lead Steve Culpepper lives in Lakeland with his wife Vicki and kids Jeff and Christi. Aside from singing barbershop Steve enjoys being with his family, fishing, and in 1982 was the first runner up in the International "I can dress myself!" Contest.

Tenor singer Dan Bullock now lives in Winter Park with his wife Sharon and kids Ian and Foster. Dan likes to spend time with his family, watching movies on his home theater system and yodeling at birds.
